A. 1. 1. v. 4 B. 93L

Copy

Boston, Jan. 22, 1849.

Dear Friend:

I wish it were in my power to say, I will be with you on the 29th, according to your desire; but I should certainly fail if I should attempt it, and therefore must take advantage of the latitude you kindly give me. It shall be my endeavor to be with you on the evening of Feb. 5th, at which time you may consider me positively engaged.

We hope to see some of our New Bedford friends at our State anniversary, this week, in the Old Cradle of Liberty.

Hastily, but with great esteem,

Yours, truly,

Wm. Lloyd Garrison.

Joseph Ricketson.

Dear Sir,

I wish it were in my power to say, I will be with you on the

Boston, Jan. 20, 1860.

Yours

Joseph Bickerton.

Mr. Glenn Berryman.

Boston, Mass.

Dearest, how with tender esteem,

Yours, truly,

Thanksgiving, this week, to the old church of Tiberia.

We spoke to the house at our Zion Baptist Library at our first

[illegible] of the Bostonian [illegible].